Enjoyed the challenge of each iteration, exploring which features to include in order to showcase the desired user experience to subsequently identify relevant stories for user scenarios.

Successfully utilized the latest additions to HTML5, CSS3 and jQuery UI as well as tools like SASS, CoffeeScript and Docpad in bringing the new user interface to life. While not completely tethered to a back-end framework, we simulated passing dummy data to the front-end using JSON and HTML5 data attributes in order to accurately test usability and desired functionality.
